Audrey is a licensed Landscape Architect with more than seven years of experience in landscape architectural and planning consulting offices. She has a well-balanced portfolio spanning from public park design and open space master planning to streetscape and amenity design for mixed-use developments. She has managed complex multi-year projects involving affordable housing and community parks in downtown and suburban contexts.

Audrey is an experienced Project Manager proficient in collaborative problem-solving, garnering community buy-in, obtaining regulatory approvals, and protecting design integrity within client budgets. Years of working in award-winning design studios have made her adept at providing the full range of design services—from conceptual design through to construction administration, as well as public and stakeholder consultation. Audrey enjoys challenging design problems and can skillfully execute a project from analysis to close-out. Upon graduation from the University of Guelph, Audrey was awarded the Canadian Society of Landscape Architects Award of Merit, recognizing a graduate's ingenuity in their studies and service to the profession. Her professional passion is public realm design in its many forms.

Prior to joining SvN, Audrey managed the design and construction of numerous Toronto parks including Sackville Playground (City of Toronto), as well as the landscape architectural scope of high-profile developments like Regent Park's Blocks 16 and 17 North (TCHC) and Housing Now's 705 Warden and 777 Victoria Park (CreateTO). She has been a key player on multiple master plans including City of Toronto Corktown Parks Master Plan and the award-winning City of Kingston Waterfront Master Plan. Audrey thrives working in fast-paced multidisciplinary teams, on projects with extensive stakeholder consultation.
